American Correctional Association

Foreword

The burgeoning U.S. prison population more than doubled in the last decade, bringing with it problems of inadequate space for housing, and insufficient funds and personnel to deal with the growth. Correctional budgets across the country have strained to keep up with the population demands, with state and federal operating budgets almost quadrupling to well over $16 billion in the decade from 1980 to 1990. Correctional building expenditures for that same period increased more than seven-fold, surpassing $5 billion.

For correctional leaders it has meant working fast to keep up. It has also meant innovations, as corrections tries options for dealing with the crisis population growth. The use of house arrest and electronic monitoring has increased. Boot camps, day reporting centers, and privately-run facilities are other options being used.

Keeping up with the rapidly changing field and knowing its trends becomes critical to correctional leaders. This directory fulfills an important part of that need by providing annual updates on changes in departments and institutions, personnel, addresses and phone numbers. The latest information on institutions is included: year opened, average daily population, capacities, security level, programs, special features, and number of personnel.

The directory also offers national overviews of the adult and juvenile correctional systems with its updated statistical tables. The state listings and nationwide totals for data on correctional budgets, population, and personnel fill an important need for tracking trends and growth in the field. Also included is information on departments and institutions under court order as well as updates on use of the death sentence.

The ever-changing nature of corrections makes it impossible for any directory to be truly current, but we keep changes on file as they occur and welcome your inquiries for updated information throughout the year.

The Association would like to thank the participating corrections officials and staff members for their generous and professional spirit of cooperation in providing the information that makes possible the continuous publication of this directory.

Your suggestions for improving the directory are welcome.

Meetings Schedule

The American Correctional Associations's two annual conventions–the Congress of Correction in its 122nd year, and the Winter Conference–are the catalysts for the advancement and growth of the Association. These international meetings give corrections practitioners from all sectors and levels of corrections and related fields the opportunity to exchange information and ideas, participate in enriching workshops and programs, and explore the latest technologies at the popular exhibit shows held in conjunction with each meeting.

Each conference features nationally known keynote speakers and experts from all areas of corrections who share their knowledge, skills, and expertise in the wide range of workshops offered. To further enhance the total convention experience, local correctional facility tours in the "host state" are available. In addition, a special Family Auxiliary registration is available allowing a registered delegate's spouse to attend all convention functions for a low price. Several fun-filled, exciting family tours offered can make an ACA convention the perfect family vacation as well.

Each year, the meetings take place in a different region of the country, allowing everyone an opportunity to attend. Thousands of delegates, including chapters and affiliates of the Association, gather to express ideas, influence national correctional policy, and promote professional development.

Be an active voice in corrections by attending the ACA's annual meetings. For further information, call the Conventions Department at 1-800-888-8784.

Get Around the Block in Seconds

Bradley Micro-Touch II™ electronic plumbing controls provide maximum security at the touch.

A. Surveillance Center
B. Status Panel
C. Cell Block

You see it all too often. Inmates causing trouble by flooding toilets. Flushing simultaneously. Or using toilets to dispose of contraband during a lockdown. Which is why you must now see the new Micro-Touch II™ Control in action.

When any fixture floods, an alarm sounds in the surveillance center and a status panel identifies the source. At the touch of a button, one or the entire cell block of fixtures can be shut down immediately. Timing changes for any fixture can be made right from the status panel, too. So there is no need to move the inmate and enter the cell.

Call for a free, no-obligation tabletop demonstration and/or literature today at 1-414-251-6000. You'll sense the real power of Micro-Touch II™ Control in no time.

When It Comes To Correctional Project Management, We've Got The Field Locked Up.

We're the first to admit it. Kitchell CEM has spent a lot of time in prisons. In California, Arizona, Idaho, Indiana, Washington. And Delaware. Just to name a few.

Our past, in fact, has made us what we are today. Seasoned pros in correctional project management. With 44,000 new beds, representing 4 billion dollars of construction undertaken in the last 13 years.

We're not afraid of tough jobs. Or tough critics. Commenting on our work with the California Department of Corrections, auditors from Arthur Young stated:

> "The general success of the program in recent years... has resulted in a large part from the planning, estimating, scheduling, and management skills of Kitchell..."

If you're planning a prison facility project, call on the company that's at the top of the "Most Wanted" list. Kitchell CEM. We've learned so much about prison construction, we've got the field locked up.

Kitchell CEM

CARE

Corrections Administration Record Entry

Why CARE? Over 15 years of research and development by the Government of British Columbia have gone into the design of CARE. CARE is the ultimate software package in productivity improvement to help prisons, jails, and correctional facilities effectively manage information on all activities during an inmate's incarceration from booking to release.

CARE is a complete offender management system, offering electronic image booking, cell allocation, sentence calculation, inmate tracking, trust accounting and extensive reports. The system schedules court dates, custody transfers and visits. CARE also features a medical records module, a community supervision component and much more.

CARE is currently implemented in 44 correctional facilities of all sizes and security levels in British Columbia, and is now available across North America. OCS has taken an Open Systems approach using the UNIX™ operating system and ORACLE™, the leading relational database management system, allowing OCS software solutions to be implemented on a wide range of industry standard hardware platforms.

OCS software is proven, reliable and provides the building blocks of success on which you can build for the future.

Scotsman Completes Lorton Prison Project
BILL, INVESTIGATE SCOTSMAN ASAP!
WA

Now We're On Most Wanted Lists All Over America.

When corrections officials needed a new medium security facility in Lorton, Virginia, they found help from a firm that really made them feel secure — Scotsman Buildings. That's because Scotsman's specialized building technique, Concurrent Construction,℠ gave them a state-of-the-art, non-combustible facility... on budget. And on time. ACCURACY

IS YOUR DRUG TEST LETTING THEM OFF TOO EASY?

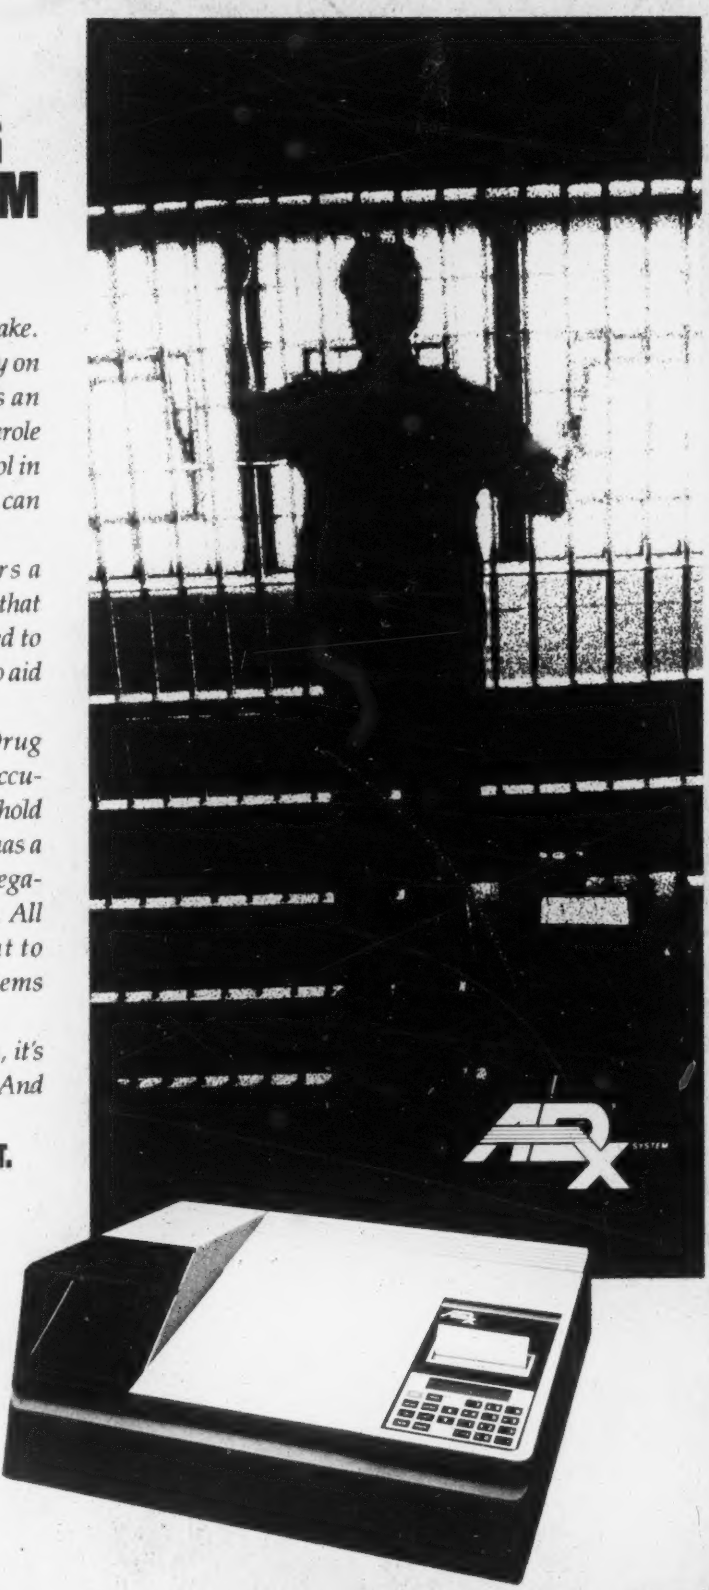
Futures depend on the decisions you make. You need information that you can rely on to answer some tough questions. Is an inmate ready for parole? What about parole violations? Are you maintaining control in your work release program? And how can you be sure who's using and who's not?

Abbott Diagnostics offers a unique abused drug screening system that will give you the information you need to answer some of those questions. And to aid you in making the right decisions.

The Abbott ADx® Abused Drug Detection System is unsurpassed in accuracy and consistently gives results that hold up in court. No other on-site system has a lower rate of false positives or false negatives. No other system is easier to use. All of which is part of our commitment to providing you with drug testing systems you can believe in.

After all, in the final analysis, it's the accuracy of the results that count. And that's the ultimate test.

PUT OUR COMMITMENT TO THE TEST.



“The reliability has been proven by back-up testing and we have not lost any cases in Probation Revocation Hearings…I would recommend the ADx Abbott machine to most any organization…”
Thomas H. Young

Florida Department of Corrections

Every effort has been made to ensure accuracy and thoroughness; however, the Association cannot assume responsibility for errors or omissions. When updated information was not provided, in some instances data from last year's edition was assumed correct and repeated.

Changes or new information to be recorded in future editions of the directory may be forwarded to the Association at any time. Comments or suggestions for improvement are welcome.

WE DO IT JUSTICE.

When morale's on the line with every meal, count on us.

Providing food service is one thing. Doing it behind bars is something else. Each meal is a welcome break, so it's important to get everything just right.

Service America is working behind bars all across the country, with a solid record of good behavior. That's because we really know how to handle the special problems faced by correctional facilities.

We prepare every meal with an eye on the clock and the budget. Even within severe limits, our efficient systems and national buying power enable us to serve food that's an appetizing and nourishing break from prison routine.

What's more, we're old hands when it comes to maintaining smooth labor relations, strict security and good sanitation. And our computerized accounting systems keep you fully informed, every step of the way.

If feeding a captive audience is part of your job, talk to the food service specialists who know how to do it justice. Call the Service America office near you.

JUVENILE PROBATION AND PAROLE SERVICES

Probation services are provided for juveniles by local governments or counties under the administrative supervision of the Juvenile Court. The Department of Youth Services establishes standards for certification of probation officers and subsidizes county probation departments so that, in this way, services are provided by the state financially (50%) and the counties (actual manpower).

LONG-SPAN SECURITY CEILING

For Criminal Justice Systems

- The Epic Metals Security Ceiling System may be used as an acoustical ceiling or as both a ceiling and a structural system for the roof or floor above.
- The ceiling can achieve a noise reduction coefficient of up to 1.0 and lighting can be recessed or mounted to the ceiling.

- The Epic Metals Security Ceiling comes to the construction site welded together as one piece. This saves the labor of field assembly of a ceiling to the above floor or roof when used structurally.
- The five different types and the ability to select the steel thickness enables the Architect or Engineer to select the right system for inside the cells and for spans up to 30 feet (day rooms and foyers).

ORGANIZATION AND ADMINISTRATION

The State Penitentiary Board was originally established through Act 1, 1943. Act 50 of 1968 reorganized the State Penitentiary as the Arkansas Department of Correction and created two major boards: The Board of Correction and the Board of Pardons and Paroles. Act 937 of 1989 abolished the Board of Pardons and Paroles and the Board of Community Rehabilitation to create a Board of Parole and Community Rehabilitation. The Board of Correction consists of a Chairman, a Vice Chairman, a Secretary, two regular members, a non-voting ex-officio member who represents the Board of Parole and Community Rehabilitation and a non-voting advisory member who is actively engaged in law enforcement. Members of this Board are appointed by the Governor.

The Compliance Office reports directly to the Board of Correction and is responsible for monitoring Department of Correction compliance with the Finney v. Hutto consent decree. The office is also responsible for monitoring the compliance of the Department in activities related to administrative regulations, standard operating procedures, Federal and State laws, Governor's executive orders, Board directives and standards by other correctional organizations. The office includes staff who are responsible for providing legal assistance to inmates and internal auditing functions.*

The chief executive of the Arkansas Department of Correction is the Director. The Department's five major divisions are Operations, Administrative Services, Field Services, Institutions, and Treatment Programs. Other areas include Public Information/Legislative Liaison, Construction and Maintenance, Equal Opportunity and Grievance Officer, and Internal Affairs and Disciplinary Hearing.

Adult probation services are provided by the Adult Probation Commission, created in 1983 by Act 151. The commission functions independently.

Juvenile institutions are the responsibility of the Department of Human Services, Division of Children and Family Services. Juvenile services come under the jurisdiction of the chancery courts, juvenile division. Services are provided by the Division of Children and Family Services, except when provided by contractual agreements between the courts or DCFS and a network of community-based providers throughout the state.

MAXIMUM SECURITY

DORMA's 7800HS and TS83HS Series Closers are ideal for correctional facilities, financial institutions, government installations... anywhere there's a need to minimize opportunities for tampering, vandalism, or damage to the door hardware. Here's why:

TORX® security machine screws with a security pin design, are used for all exposed fasteners to prevent unauthorized removal.

Heavy-duty rivets or studs are welded or pinned at all connecting points to minimize the possibility of disconnecting or disassembling the arm.

UL and ULC listed and conform to the requirements of ANSI A156.4 Grade 1.

When anything less than maximum security isn't worth the risk, call toll-free at (800) 523-8483 or write

ADULT PAROLE BOARD AND COMMUNITY SERVICES

The Board of Parole and Community Rehabilitation consists of seven members appointed by the Governor to staggered seven-year terms. A panel of two members usually meets several days each month at the various units within the Department. It interviews eligible inmates to determine which are placed on parole or in an alternative service program as well as prescribe the conditions of parole and alternative service release or related functions. They make recommendations to the Governor on applications for pardons and executive clemencies. Once the eligible inmates are interviewed by the panel, the full Board meets once a month to approve or disapprove the offenders' release.

ADULT PROBATION SERVICES

The Arkansas Adult Probation Commission was established through Act 151 of 1983 thus separating adult probation services from the Department of Correction. The nine-member Commission (five circuit judges who hear criminal cases and four private citizens not employed in the criminal justice system) are appointed by the Governor and confirmed by the Senate to six-year terms.

The purpose of the Commission is to make adult probation services available to circuit (felony) courts, inclusive of interstate compact; improve the effectiveness of probation services; provide alternatives to incarceration by providing financial aid to judicial circuits for the establishment and improvement of probation services and community-based correctional programs and facilities other than jails or prisons; and establish uniform probation administration standards.

IS YOUR BUILDING PROGRAM UNDER ARREST?

Planning and building a new detention facility is a complex process. It usually involves city or county planning and engineering, input of local officials, many state regulatory agencies, architects, engineers, contractors and suppliers. It requires an understanding of both the process and the building type. Vanir Construction Management, Inc. is a veteran at managing the planning, design and construction of criminal justice facilities. Keeping your project on track, under budget and meeting your needs is our business.

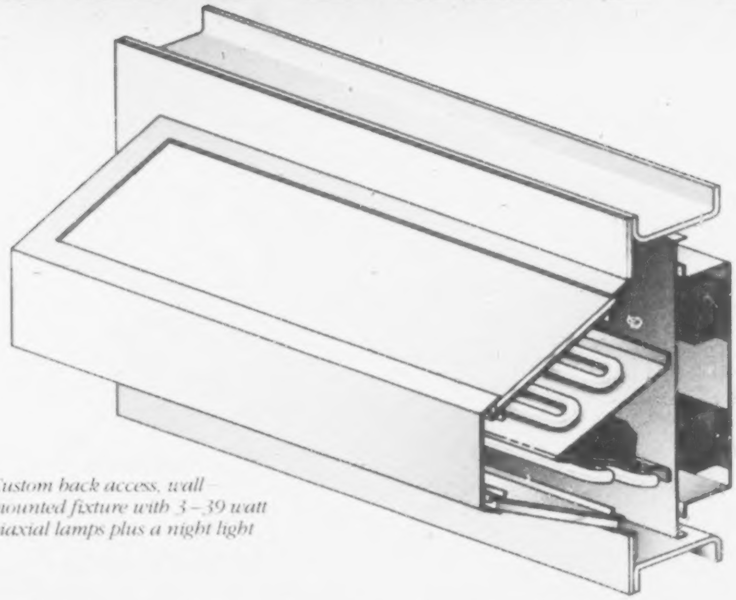
ULTRA MAXIMUM SECURITY.



Custom back access, wall–mounted fixture with 3–39 watt biaxial lamps plus a night light

When the newest Level Six federal correctional facility was designed, you can bet that the specification was tough.

Northern Light was chosen to provide the Ultra Maximum light fixtures for this prison in Florence, Colorado.

Our reputation for quality, custom design, and cost competitive manufacturing will only be enhanced in 1992 as we move to a new manufacturing plant.

Northern's investment in advanced design and world class manufacturing capabilities include; 3D computer aided engineering, computer controlled fabrication equipment, and an on-line powder coating system.

At Northern Light, were already waiting for Level Seven.

ORGANIZATION AND ADMINISTRATION

In 1977, the Department of Corrections was formed for adult corrections, retaining the same sentencing system it had as a division of the Department of Institutions. Faced with substantial growth and the need to assure effective utilization of resources, the Department reorganized on December 1, 1987, to meet those challenges and achieve new directions in organizational goals. Parole supervision is administered through the Division of Community Services.

The Division of Youth Services, under the Department of Institutions, provides institutional and aftercare services for juveniles.

The Board of Parole, an independent agency, grants parole to adults only. The Juvenile Parole Board is an independent agency within the Department of Institutions.

ADULT INSTITUTIONS

Commitments (aged 16 or above) to the Department of Corrections are adjudicated in adult court as felons or misdemeanants and sentenced to definite terms, having fixed minimum and maximum sentences. Sex offenders may be sentenced to indeterminate terms of from one day to life.

The Board of Parole is an autonomous agency (assisted administratively by the Department of Correction) which consists of 11 members appointed by the Governor with the consent of either the House of Representatives or the Senate. The Chairman serves full-time, the other members serve part-time.

The panels make release, revocation, and rescission decisions on all individuals serving indeterminate sentences for crimes committed prior to July 1, 1981. The Board also has the authority to grant medical parole to any inmate serving any sentence who has been diagnosed as being terminally ill and incapable of committing a crime. In addition, any felon incarcerated on or after October 1, 1990 who is serving a definite sentence of one year or more falls under the jurisdiction of the Board after having served one half the calendar term imposed by the court.

JUVENILE INTAKE, PROBATION AND AFTERCARE SERVICES

Florida's 67 counties are divided into 11 districts. A district administrator administers all programs within a district. Programs for delinquent and dependent children, including the delinquency case management (intake, probation, aftercare) are administered under a Children, Youth and Families (CYF) organizational structure. Unit offices are strategically located throughout a district to serve delinquent offenders under supervision.

The Community Control and Furlough program provides supervision of juveniles placed on community control by the courts, and for those juveniles released on furlough from commitment programs (training schools, halfway houses, etc.). Community services and restitution are a major part of community control. Juvenile offenders work in these programs for a specified number of hours as part of court-ordered supervision. Communities throughout Florida have provided hundreds of work sites for juvenile offenders.

At the headquarters level in Tallahassee, the CYF Program Office acts in a staff capacity to field staff by providing uniform policies and procedures through program manuals and administrative rules. This office is also responsible for quality control, interprogram coordination, monitoring of programs, and other functions as prescribed by law.

Each district also has a CYF Program Office to coordinate programs for dependent and delinquent children.

ORGANIZATION AND ADMINISTRATION

Under the Department of Corrections, the Operations Division is responsible for adult offender institutions (state and county) and transitional centers (work release, pre-release, and adjustment centers) and the Community Corrections Division for services on the state and county level (field supervision, probation/restitution/diversion centers/detention centers).*

The Board of Pardons and Paroles is an independent agency which reviews adult parole cases and provides field parole supervision. It is also the only state agency vested with the power to grant clemency.*

Under the Department of Human Resources' Division of Youth Services, juvenile institutions, parole and the majority of probation services are provided by county-operated and financed juvenile courts. In several counties, these responsibilities are shared by both Division of Youth Services' staff and county staff.*

JUVENILE SERVICES

In response to the growing concern for the special needs of youth and families and the need for coordination of public and private services for youth in need of such services, the Hawaii State Legislature established the Office of Youth Services (OYS) in July 1989. The OYS is attached, for administrative purposes only, to the Department of Human Services. The office is responsible for providing a continuum of services for at-risk youth, ranging from prevention programs to secure custody programs.

JUVENILE SERVICES

Original jurisdiction in juvenile cases is at the District (Magistrate) Court level. Jurisdiction obtained by the court may be retained until age 21, unless terminated prior thereto. Jurisdiction is terminated after a youth is committed to the Department of Health and Welfare (DHW) and subsequently discharged, or when a juvenile is convicted of a felony after age 18. Juveniles under the jurisdiction of the court and charged with a felony after turning 18 are treated as adults.

The courts may commit a youth to the DHW and designate whether the commitment is for secure confinement or a community-based program. Secure confinement is defined as placement in a state operated facility providing 24 hour supervision and confinement for youth offenders committed for custody and rehabilitation. After a youth has been committed, the Department has dispositional authority regarding placement in a specific secure or community-based program. There is only one secure facility for youth offenders in the state.

Effective July 1, 1991, Community Supervision was reorganized into the PRESTART Program. The goals of this program are to prepare an inmate for the responsibilities of release during incarceration and to positively impact recidivism and prison crowding by concentrating resources on high risk releasees. PRESTART consists of two phases: Phase I is a mandatory 30-hour release school during which the inmate prepares an Individual Development Plan; Phase II utilizes Community Service Center offices to assist releasees in achieving goals. The Special Intensive Supervision Unit will supervise high risk releasees. Each of the four Community Services Zones will also have a Community Drug Intervention Unit.

ADULT AND JUVENILE PROBATION SERVICES

The Judicial Conference of Indiana consists of all the state's full-time judges of courts of record and full-time magistrates. Probation services for both adults and juveniles are administered at the county level under recommended standards of the Judicial Conference. The Judicial Conference is governed by a Board of Directors chaired by the Chief Justice of Indiana. The Judicial Conference is served by the Indiana Judicial Center*, the Conference's staff agency.*

Probation officers are county employees directly supervised and employed by the judge or judges in the county. The Judicial Conference of Indiana has responsibility for administering the examination of prospective probation officers, conducting educational programs for probation officers, and developing standards for probation services. The Indiana Judicial Center collects statistics concerning home detention and electronic monitoring of probationers. The Division of State Court Administration collects all other probation data.

The probation portion of the Interstate Compact on Probation and Parole and the Interstate Compact on Juveniles is administered by the Indiana Judicial Center. All probation interstate inquiries should be directed to the Probation Coordinator.

The Department of Corrections, through the Division of Community Correctional Services, provides adult parole and probation services in eight judicial districts.

The Board of Parole, an independent agency reporting only to the Governor, reviews adult felony cases of the state correctional facilities.

Juvenile correctional facilities are contained within the Department of Human Services. Juveniles are released (paroled) upon the order of the committing court, and are supervised upon release by the Department's Division of Adult, Children and Family Services. The county court retains jurisdiction of these youths, and the court must order any change in placement.

Juvenile probation services are provided by judicial districts throughout the state.

JUVENILE SERVICES

Juvenile institutions, intake, probation, and aftercare (parole) services all come under the jurisdiction of the Department of Juvenile Services. The majority of children who come under the preview of the Department are supervised by juvenile counselors within the community or are placed in private community-based residential programs. Less than 10 percent are committed to institutional facilities by the courts. Commitments are for indeterminate periods of time. At the time of commitment, the Department of Juvenile Services assigns an aftercare worker to the case whose job is to prepare the community for the child's return as well as help the institution prepare the child for eventual release back into the community. The date of release is determined by the institutional staff and the aftercare worker who together make their recommendation to the courts for final approval.

Intake, Probation and Aftercare services are provided by juvenile counselors within each region. Even the simplest designs can lead to a major construction effort...

And correctional facilities are far from simple. You have what seems to be a monumental task in front of you and you don't have decades to finish it. Your facility is under orders to relieve overcrowding. That means build a new facility or expand your existing one. How will you fund it? How will you manage what seems like a cast of thousands? Let Sverdrup help. ▲ We can work with you to explore funding options while our designers develop the program and analyze initial and life cycle cost implications. We have the hands-on construction management experience you need to get that project built — on time and within budget. The result is a facility designed to meet tomorrow's needs. ▲ Our comprehensive correctional facilities planning checklist addresses these concerns and others. For a free copy, call Glenn Gauger or Roger Grimshaw at (800) 325-7910 or, in Missouri, (314) 436-7600. Or write: Sverdrup Corporation, 801 North Eleventh Street, St. Louis, Missouri 63101.

ABOUT TIME
SOMEBODY
DID IT!

The corrections industry has seen many changes from suppliers and manufacturers over the years.

Just look around, almost every day you will see changes in product specs, technologies, manufacturing and design. All these encourage bewilderment, delayed shipments, product integrity and increased costs.

Are all of these changes necessary?

We at FCE say NO! Product quality, service and dependability, need never be changed or compromised... that's the FCE philosophy... and why we've been manufacturing detention equipment since 1921.

Don't get us wrong, change for the most part is good, without it we halt progress. But, think for a moment how obliging things would be with industry standards you could finally depend on...we have.

That's why...

"We set the Standards"

For more information about our quality products, services and dependability, write for your free equipment manual.

COMMUNITY CORRECTIONS SERVICES

The Office of Community Corrections (OCC), was created by Public Act 511 in 1988. The OCC is responsible for the management of the Community Corrections Act which has as its general goals the appropriate utilization of prison and jail facilities so as to alleviate institutional crowding by maximizing the use of community-based punishment programs. The OCC is overseen by the Michigan State Community Corrections Board which is appointed by the Governor. The Board hires the Executive Director who reports directly to the Governor. The OCC is completely autonomous from the Department of Corrections but housed there as a constitutional protection. The DOC provides administrative support services to the OCC to avoid unnecessary duplication.

By law, the office of Community Corrections has several important tasks to manage: local program services and statewide data collection, reporting and analysis.

ADULT PAROLE AND SUPERVISED RELEASE AUTHORITY

The Commissioner of Corrections has responsibility for granting parole and setting the conditions of supervised release. With the exception of the parole of inmates with life sentences, the Commissioner delegates this authority to the Office of Adult Release. The Office of Adult Release consists of the Executive Officer of Adult Release and two full-time Deputy Executive Officers and corrections staff who are assigned part-time to assist the executive officer. An advisory panel composed of departmental employees advises the Commissioner regarding inmates with life sentences. The delegation of authority provides for the Executive Officer of Adult Release to grant parole and work release, to revoke parole, work release and supervised release, to discharge persons under indeterminate sentences, and to approve the condition of parole, work release, and supervised release. Parole and supervised release responsibilities were formerly performed by the Minnesota Corrections Board (parole board) which was legislatively abolished on June 30, 1982.

ORGANIZATION AND ADMINISTRATION

Nevada's penal system is comprised of three independent departments: the Department of Prisons, the Department of Parole and Probation and the Department of Human Resources. The Director of the Department of Prisons (adult institutions) reports to the Board of Prison Commissioners. The Department of Parole and Probation, which supervises adult parolees and probationers, is advised by the Board of Parole Commissioners, which is the paroling authority. The Board of Pardons meets twice yearly to consider commutations and pardons.

The Youth Correctional Services of the Department of Human Resources (DHR) administers juvenile institutions and parole services (as the Nevada Youth Parole Bureau). The Director of DHR reports to the Governor.

Juvenile probation services are administered by district juvenile courts at the county level.

ADULT INSTITUTIONS

Anyone convicted of a felony, regardless of age, is committed to the Department of Prisons. The length of sentence varies: minimum sentence without violence is one year, with violence is five years; and a prisoner serving a life sentence must serve 10 years (minimum) before he can apply for a pardon.

Bob Viterna, former Executive Director, Texas Commission on Jail Standards, ensures the highest quality for ISI's units.

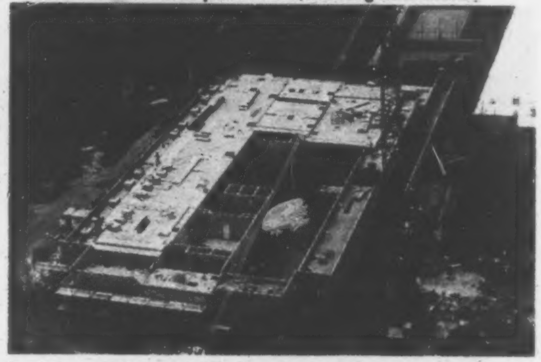
Finished units are set in place on site, reducing labor costs.



Turnkey operation is delivered twice as fast as conventional construction.

Build Your Jail Twice as Fast, Economically the ISI Way

Build your high quality detention facility using International Systems, Incorporated's permanent industrialized construction process, and you'll save at least 50% in time and up to 20% in costs compared to conventional construction.

ISI's steel-reinforced, pre-cast concrete units are unique in the industry. Unlike those produced by makers of one of a kind modules, ISI's units are manufactured in a variety of sizes in our modern, new plant, the largest of its type in the industry. The units can be used as cells, day rooms, laundries, offices, even elevator shafts and stairwells.

Electrical and mechanical installation is done at ISI's plant, and all units arrive completely finished out, so limited on-site labor is needed, further reducing time and expense. The end result is a turnkey operation — a safe, secure, permanent detention facility, delivered twice as fast as is possible using conventional construction.

Satisfied ISI customers include the Texas Department of Corrections and the operators of numerous county facilities in Texas, Georgia, Mississippi, Florida and New York.

No matter whether your facility is for eight prisoners or eight hundred — or more — ISI's unique permanent industrialized construction system will save you time and money. Call today for more information.

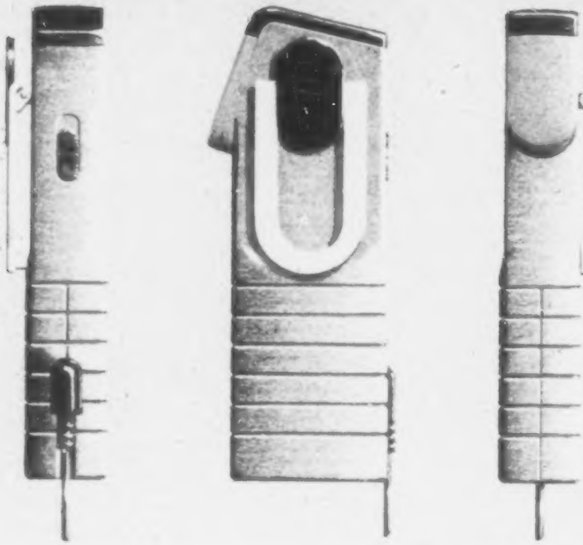
A new alarm system for personal security



telePROTECT 900

Quick location of person in distress

We introduce our new personal alarm system, telePROTECT 900. The system features a transmitter which enables you to locate a person in distress quickly, and what's more - there is no special wiring required.

The new system offers features not normally found in other systems - telePROTECT 900 tells who you are, where you are and how the alarm was activated. The alarm can be displayed on a computer screen, on a pocket pager display, and/or other annunciators. When the system is monitored through a computer control center, the screen will even show your location just prior to alarm activation!

Reliable, secure and easy to use

- The new system works by radio and IR transmission - no wiring is required.
- Shows the identity of the source of the alarm.
- Locates the source of the alarm and indicates last and previous location.
- Three ways of alarm activation: push-button, "man down" and "pull alarm".
- The alarm transmitter is small, easy to carry and very simple to use.
- The system is very reliable and secure from false alarms.

We will demonstrate our new personal alarm system at the ACA Winter Conference in Portland, Oregon. See us in booth 546.

COMMUNITY SERVICE CENTER

The Community Service Center is a pre-release concept designed to ease the re-entry of the released, adult offender into the community; houses not more than 50 for a period of about four months. Residents work a regular full-time job or attend school or vocational training. Residents eligible for admission into the program are those who have achieved minimum custody status in the institution, who meet stipulated admission criteria and who are within seven months of release to parole or termination of sentence.

ADULT PAROLE BOARD

The State Parole Board is a full-time Board composed of a Chairman and eight Associate Members appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate. The Board is comprised of panels for adult, young adult and juvenile cases. The members are further paired to hear county jail cases.

Each panel consists of two Associate Members with the Chairman sitting as the third member of each panel. The Board is the paroling authority for all offenders committed as adults, young adults or juveniles in the state and county jail inmates with terms in excess of 60 days. The Board also investigates and advises the Governor on all applications for executive clemency. In 1984, a Victim Input Program was started. The Board will consider the testimonies of victims of first and second degree crimes in making decisions.

ADULT AND JUVENILE PROBATION SERVICES

As a judicial function established by statute, probation is a disposition which may be imposed on both adults and juveniles as an alternative to confinement in state or county facilities or directly as a sentence. The Supreme Court, under the leadership of the Chief Justice, aided by the Administrative Director of the Courts (AOC), is responsible for setting statewide probation policy. The Assistant Director for Probation at the state level AOC coordinates day to day programs and activities, maintains responsibility for interstate cases, and acts as consultant to the Judiciary on probation matters. The state also manages a line operation, Intensive Supervision Program.

Assignment Judges of each judicial district make recommendations for Vicinage Chief Probation Officers. These individuals are appointed by the Director of the AOC with the approval of the Chief Justice. Assignment Judges also appoint Probation Officers, fix salaries and administer day to day operations of the local probation departments. Operating costs are paid for primarily by the counties.

PROBATION SERVICES

NEW YORK STATE EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT

Through the State Director, the mission of the Division of Probation and Correctional Alternatives is to maintain and improve probation services and other programs devoted to providing alternatives to incarceration. The services resulting from the agency's mission and responsibilities are intended to maximize community based management of offenders, juvenile delinquents, and persons in need of supervision, and to ensure that such management is consistent with public safety, offender accountability and rehabilitation, and cost effectiveness. The Probation Commission advises and consults with the Director of Probation and Correctional Alternatives in the formulation of policies relating to probation throughout the state.

As reconstituted by Chapter 695 of the Laws of 1971 and amended by Chapter 496, Laws of 1972, the Probation Commission consists of the Director of Probation, who is chairman, and six other members selected as follows: three appointed by the Governor from among persons who, as members of the community, have demonstrated an interest and involvement in the field of probation; two appointed by the Governor from among probation administrators and probation officers actually employed in the field of probation; and the Chief Administrator of the unified court system. Members do not receive any compensation for their services; those appointed by the Governor serve at the pleasure of the Governor.

ORGANIZATION AND ADMINISTRATION

The New York City Correction Department functions in a dual capacity as both a pre-trial and a post-sentence agency. Persons over 16 years of age may be incarcerated as detention or sentenced cases. Sentenced cases, classified as misdemeanants, or "D" and "E" felons serving up to one year (minimum one day). The Department also performs a civil function by holding cases answerable to civil courts of the City of New York.

The New York City Department of Juvenile Justice provides detention, aftercare and prevention services to juveniles in New York City. Children detained in Department facilities include both alleged juvenile delinquents (JD) and alleged juvenile offenders (JO) whose cases are pending. The Department's detention facilities also hold adjudicated JDs and convicted JOs awaiting transfer to State Division for Youth facilities. The Department administers Spofford Juvenile Center in the Bronx (at present the only secure detention facility for juveniles in the city), eight group care facilities (five of which are operated by voluntary agencies), and a foster home. The Department also supervises Family Court detention rooms and transports detained juveniles between the Department's facilities and the Family, Criminal and Supreme Courts in each of the five boroughs.

ORGANIZATION AND ADMINISTRATION

Adult correctional institutions and services are provided by the Department of Correction (DOC), an agency composed of four sections: Central Administration, Division of Prisons, Division of Adult Probation and Parole (DAPP) and Correction Enterprise.

Central Administration provides support services to all areas of the department such as personnel, training, accounting, purchasing, internal auditing, research, substance abuse treatment and community and public relations.

The Division of Prisons is responsible for operation and management of the state's 91 prisons. A Director of Prisons and his staff administer prisons through five commands for women, youth, institutions and eastern and western areas.

The Division of Adult Probation and Parole has 19 branch offices with 134 probation and parole units responsible for the supervision of probationers and parolees. DAPP uses electronic house arrest, intensive supervision and regular probation and parole programs to oversee more than 93,000 offenders.

Correction Enterprise employs approximately 1,500 inmates from the Division of Prisons daily in a variety of areas. These operations provide low-cost products and services for use by government agencies.

The Parole Commission makes all decisions on parole. The five members are appointed by the Governor. The Commission, supported by a professional staff, operates separately from the DOC.

Juvenile institutions are operated by the Department of Human Resources' Division of Youth Services. A juvenile is released from an institution after completion of the "main stream" level or step program. Children are then released at the discretion of the treatment team and staff of the institution except when committed for a definite term by the court. There is no juvenile parole board as such.

The Division places the child based upon a documented written treatment/rehabilitation plan. One of the primary responsibilities of the Division is to establish community alternatives so that youth can be placed in the least restrictive environment. Children placed at the State Industrial School have release dates determined by the Division of Juvenile Services.*

During the reception process, inmates are evaluated to establish their educational, medical, psychological and security levels, and are assigned to a parent institution. Upon completion of their sentences, inmates are transferred to a pre-release center to help them adjust to life in society following incarceration. Ohio has three adult female institutions and 19 adult male facilities.

JUVENILE INSTITUTIONS

To be placed into the custody of the Department of Youth Services (DYS), a juvenile offender must be committed by a county juvenile court for an offense which would be a Felony I, II, III, IV or a capital offense if committed by an adult. Upon commitment, a youth is placed in the appropriate DYS institution based on a classification system which considers prior offenses, committing offenses and special program/service needs. All youth who are committed to DYS may, at the discretion of the Department, be institutionalized to age 21, although very few actually are. There are minimum periods of institutionalization as follows: Murder or aggravated murder, until the youth reaches 21 years of age; felonies of the first and second degree, one year; and felonies of the third and fourth degree, six months. It should be noted that many youth are released before the "minimum" period, through a statutory process which requires approval of the committing court.

JUVENILE PROBATION

Probation of juveniles is administered by probation officers appointed by a Juvenile Court Judge. The Judge may transfer the duties of probation to county probation departments but at no time may a juvenile case be handled by an officer from the Adult Division. The Office of Subsidies within the Department of Youth Services administers a program of state aid to juvenile courts.

In all but two counties, the Juvenile Court is within the Division of Domestic Relations of the Court of Common Pleas. Cuyahoga County has an independent juvenile court; Hamilton County juvenile court is a separate division of that county's Court of Common Pleas. All juvenile courts have exclusive original jurisdiction over delinquent, neglected, and "unruly" children under 18 and over physically handicapped children to age 21.

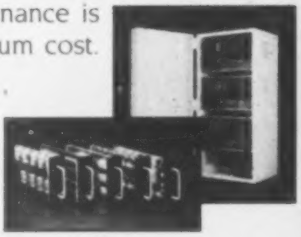
FROM CONCEPT TO COMPLETION

It originates as a security concept— an idea for a security control system that will grow as easily as needs change. Taking a creative idea and turning it into an innovative, custom-designed security control system is what has made Unitek such a successful company.

Our technical staff will work with you to create a system that addresses your needs, and simplifies operations. And that's only the beginning. The heart of our system incorporates two standard components: relay logic control racks and circuit cards with self-diagnostic features. By incorporating these two standard components, maintenance is reduced to a minimum cost.



Circuit Cards & Logic Control Rack.

As well as supplying the corrections industry with security control systems, we also design and install sound, paging, and nurse-call systems. So when you're ready to take a concept and watch it become a complete, cost-effective, and extremely reliable system, call Unitek at 1-800-272-9757.

ADULT INSTITUTIONS AND SERVICES

Any adult, 18 years or older, convicted of a felony, or juvenile (16-17) on juvenile court remand, is committed to the Department of Corrections. Institution sentencing is calculated based on the date of commission of the crime. If crime was determined to have been committed prior to November 1, 1989, or crime commission date is uncertain, the indeterminate sentencing laws apply. If crime was determined to have been committed after November 1, 1989, determinate sentencing occurs under the Sentencing Guideline laws established by the 1989 legislature.

ORGANIZATION AND ADMINISTRATION

Adult institutions come under the jurisdiction of the Department of Corrections*. The Commissioner is appointed by the Governor.*

The paroling actions and supervision of adults whose sentences are two years or more are the responsibility of the Board of Probation and Parole*. County probation departments supervise adult cases with sentences of two years or less paroled by county courts. The Board also has authority to supervise probation cases and offenders sentenced to confinement with a maximum of two years or less when paroled and referred to the Board by the county courts; county courts retain authority to revoke, terminate or take other judicial actions in these special cases. The* Board of Pardons hears petitions for executive clemency.

Juvenile institutions come under the jurisdiction of the Bureau of State Children and Youth Programs of the Department of Public Welfare's Office of Children, Youth and Families*. Juvenile probation and aftercare are functions of the counties and their officers.*

There are no institutional juvenile parole boards; the Juvenile Court has complete and original jurisdiction over juvenile offenders.

ADULT INSTITUTIONS

Those convicted in adult criminal court and receiving maximum sentences of from two to five years may, at the discretion of the court, be sent to a Correctional Diagnostic and Classification Center for classification and transfer within the state system. Criminal convictions receiving five years or more must be sent to a Correctional Diagnostic and Classification Center. A 23-county region of Western Pennsylvania may send all individuals receiving minimum sentences of at least six months and maximum sentences of less than two years to the regional facility at Mercer.

Parole eligibility occurs at the completion of the minimum sentence date which may not exceed one-half of the maximum sentence. For certain violent crimes, a mandatory five-year minimum sentence is required. All other cases are sentenced under 1982 sentencing guidelines, which require the courts to justify any deviations.

ADULT PAROLE AND PROBATION

The Board of Probation and Parole, a state agency, is responsible for the paroling action and supervision of all adult offenders receiving a sentence of two years or more. Offenders sentenced to a maximum sentence of less than two years are paroled by county courts and supervised by county probation departments.

The Board also has authority to supervise probation cases and offenders sentenced to confinement with a maximum of less than two years when paroled and referred to the Board by the county courts. The Board has only supervision authority in these special cases; county courts retain authority to revoke, terminate or other judicial actions.

The Board is responsible, by state statute, for establishing uniform state-wide standards for county adult probation services. It also administers a Grant-in-Aid Program which provides funds to counties for the improvement of county adult probation services.

The Board consists of five full-time members, appointed by the Governor with the consent of a majority of the Senate members to serve staggered, renewable six-year terms. Board members are prohibited from engaging in any other employment or political activity.

City of Philadelphia

ORGANIZATION AND ADMINISTRATION

The Philadelphia Prisons System is comprised of five major institutions—Holmesburg Prison, Detention Center, House of Correction, Philadelphia Industrial Correctional Center and the Alternative and Special Detention Division. These facilities are located within proximity to one another in the Greater Northeast section of Philadelphia. The City's correctional facilities confine persons 18 years of age or older who have been committed by the courts in detentioner or sentenced status and confine juveniles awaiting adjudication who have been certified as adults. Federal prisoners are also held for disposition by the U.S. District Court or by the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

The mission of the Philadelphia Prison System is to maintain a correctional program the adequately detains individuals accused or convicted of illegal acts. At the same time, the Prison System provides human services, supervision, training and habilitation in a humane environment and in a cost-effective manner. These efforts strive toward preparation of individuals to serve as functional, productive members of society upon release.

The Philadelphia Prison System is subject to the administration of the Board of Trustees whose members include six citizens appointed by the Mayor and the Human Services Commissioners, who serves in an ex-officio capacity.

The Commissioner of Prisons, as chief executive officer for the Board of Trustees, is responsible for fiscal control; for overall supervision of operations and coordination of activities; planning, development and execution of policy; administrative studies and reviews, relations with the City and other governmental officials, the communitym and public and private agencies. Each institution is under the immediate direction of a warden, who is assisted by two deputy wardens and support staff.

ORGANIZATION AND ADMINISTRATION

Adult corrections is administered by the Department of Corrections and the Department of Probation, Parole, and Pardon Services, a separate agency. All convicted offenders, age 17 and above, sentenced to serve a term greater than three months, are admitted to the Department of Corrections. Offenders between the ages of 17 and 21 (extended to 25 with individual consent) may be sentenced to an indeterminate Youthful Offender sentence of one to six years within the Department of Corrections.

The Department of Corrections is responsible to the State Board of Corrections which serves as an advisory board. This board has seven members, six of whom are appointed by the Governor, who is the ex officio member.

The State Board of Probation, Parole, and Pardon Services is the state's sole pardoning and adult paroling authority. Department of Corrections' inmates are eligible for parole consideration (as mandated by statute) by this Board, which is composed of seven part-time members appointed by the Governor. For individuals serving an indeterminate Youthful Offender sentence, the Department of Corrections determines release eligibility, with supervision provided by the Department of Probation, Parole, and Pardon Services. This Department is responsible to the Board of Probation, Parole, and Pardon Services, and provides community supervision to those placed on probation by the courts, paroled by the board or released from the Department of Corrections on various statutorily-mandated programs to relieve prison overcrowding.

The Department of Youth Services is responsible for providing statewide community-based and institutional services for juveniles. Aftercare and probation services are provided by the Community Programs Division. The paroling authority for juveniles is the Juvenile Parole Board, which along with the Board of Youth Services is appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate.

ADULT INSTITUTIONS

Responsibility for direct supervision of institutions is divided among three regional administrators who report to the Deputy Commissioner for Operations. Because of overcrowded conditions, some state inmates are housed in designated local facilities, as provided for by legislation for a period of one year and may be renewed by mutual agreement of the Department of Corrections and local officials. The office of the Deputy Commissioner for Operations is responsible for placing state inmates in designated local facilities. At the end of FY 1990, there were 59 designated local facilities with 503 Department of Corrections inmates.

PROBATION AND PAROLE SERVICES

The Board of Probation, Parole, and Pardon Services is composed of seven part-time members who serve six-year staggered and renewable terms. The members are appointed by the Governor, with consent of the State Senate, one from each of the state's six U.S. Congressional Districts and one member-at-large.

The Department of Probation, Parole and Pardon Services supervises those adults placed on probation by the courts, on parole by the Board, and those released from state correctional institutions on Youthful Offender release, extended work release, as well as on legislatively-mandated early release programs to relieve prison overcrowding. The Department has also developed a range of supervision programs and community punishments for use by the courts as sentencing options, and by the Board of Probation, Parole, and Pardon Services for heightened offender accountability on parole.

Vested in the Board is the authority to grant parole, to restore citizenship rights through pardon, and to oversee the operations of the Department.

JUVENILE INSTITUTIONAL AND COMMUNITY PROGRAMS

Children of the ages 10 to 17 who are adjudicated delinquent may be committed by a Family Court Judge to the correctional facilities operated by the Department of Youth Services. The Department is also responsible for providing intake, probation and aftercare (parole) services through offices located in each county. A ten-member independent Juvenile Parole Board reviews the records and progress of children committed to the custody of the agency for the purpose of deciding the releases and revocations of releases of such children.

YOUTH DEVELOPMENT CENTERS

Juvenile commitments may be either indeterminate or determinate. The release date for a juvenile is determined by the Department of Youth Development with the approval of the juvenile court judge. Indeterminate releases are based on recommendations made by the superintendents of the youth development centers where the juvenile resides with approval by the Commissioner of Youth Development and the committing judge. Determinate sentence releases are authorized after the completion of the sentence with incentive time figured at approximately 30%. The majority of juveniles released from youth development centers, group homes, or contract programs are placed on aftercare status following their return to their home community.

JUVENILE INSTITUTIONS

The Texas Youth Commission is the agency which administers the juvenile corrections system of the state. The majority of youth, ages 10 to 17 who violate criminal laws are handled at the local level through the supervision of county juvenile probation departments. Approximately three percent of juveniles referred to local authorities are eventually committed to TYC annually.

In order to be committed to the Youth Commission, any male or female must be adjudicated delinquent for violation of a penal law of the state punishable by imprisonment or confinement in jail, Some offenders may be certified to be tried as an adult after reaching age 15. The Youth Commission does have an administrative policy requiring a minimum one to two year length of stay for certain violent offenders. The Youth Commission retains custody until age 21.

JUVENILE SERVICES

The Department of Youth and Family Services' mission is to reduce juvenile delinquency and protect the people of the Commonwealth by providing services, programs and policies which advocate for the needs of youth and their families, assist communities in preventing juvenile delinquency, to divert from the juvenile justice system those whose needs are more appropriately met elsewhere, and promote the rehabilitation of youth under the care and supervision of the Department.

The Department operates three regional offices, 31 statewide juvenile court service units (CSUs), one reception and diagnostic center, six juvenile learning centers and four halfway houses. Additionally, DYFS provides funding and certification to four locally-operated CSUs and various locally-operated juvenile justice programs, including: 17 detention homes, nine detention outreach programs, 33 pre- and post-dispositional group homes, seven family group home (foster care) systems, and 48 community prevention and youth development programs (called Offices on Youth.)

MAXIMUM SECURITY!

No matter how small...wherever it's hidden... SOLCO's exclusive 360° screening system finds weapons or objects other detection systems miss.

Designed to detect minute amounts of ferrous and non-ferrous metals, the SOLCO Systems find weapons or objects concealed anywhere.

SOLCO offers penal institutions, courts and correctional facilities two options in sensitive, effective screening:

- For conventional weapons screening, the SOLCO Model XI
- For special applications to detect extremely-small, easily-concealed objects, the Model IX-C Signature System.

SOLCO's ultra-sensitive detection capability adds a maximum dimension of security to correctional and court facilities. SOLCO is now detecting and deterring contraband smuggling for major penal, youth and court facilities in Ohio, California, Georgia, New York, Florida and Cook County, Illinois.

Move up to maximum security!

JUVENILE INSTITUTIONS AND PAROLE SERVICES

The Division of Juvenile Rehabilitation provides for care, custody, rehabilitation and community supervision of court-committed youth between the ages of 8 and 20. Youths are committed under a presumptive sentencing structure which is reviewed by the legislature. A minimum and maximum are set by the court using sentencing guidelines, or declaring a manifest injustice to set a sentence outside of the sentencing guidelines. A release date between the minimum and maximum is established by the residential facility.

ORGANIZATION AND ADMINISTRATION

The Division of Corrections is responsible for adult and juvenile correctional facilities, and adult parole supervision. The Division also handles adult and juvenile interstate compact cases for probation and parole.

The Supreme Court of Appeals maintains probation departments that are responsible for providing probationary supervision services to all adults and many juveniles. Under West Virginia statute, juveniles return to the committing court for institutional release. Since release is judicially and not administratively determined, this is considered probation. These juveniles are supervised by the Department of Health and Human Resources (DHHR). In approximately 60% of the cases, the DHHR also provides the courts with juvenile probation officers.

Federal Bureau of Prisons

ORGANIZATION AND ADMINISTRATION

The Federal Bureau of Prisons, established in 1930 by an Act of Congress, is assigned the responsibility for "the safe-keeping, care, protection, instruction, and discipline of all persons charged or convicted of offenses against the United States."

To carry out its responsibilities, the Bureau has a correctional network of 67 correctional institutions ranging from penitentiaries to prison camps. The administration of these facilities is divided into six regions with regional directors headquartered in Atlanta, Dallas, Kansas City, Philadelphia, Annapolis Junction, MD and San Francisco. Functions such as case management, health and drug abuse programs, education, vocational training and correctional services are delegated to these regions and the individual institutions with coordination and oversight carried out in the Central Office.

U.S. Sentencing Commission

ORGANIZATION AND ADMINISTRATION

The U.S. Sentencing Commission is an independent agency in the judicial branch charged with promulgating mandatory guidelines for federal judges to use when sentencing individuals and organizations convicted of federal crimes. Created under provisions of the Comprehensive Crime Control Act of 1984, the Commission's goals are to eliminate unwarranted disparity in sentences meted out for similar offenders who commit similar crimes and ensure fairness in sentencing and uniformity of punishment.

The Commission's initial set of sentencing guidelines were submitted to the Congress for review on April 13, 1987 and went into effect on November 1, 1987. The Guidelines and related sentencing provisions of the Crime Control Act are applicable to all individuals whose offenses occurred on or after November 1, 1987. The guidelines determine the appropriate sentence based on the specific characteristics of the offense and the offender. If incarceration is to be imposed, the guidelines specify a range of months from which the judge must choose a specific sentence. By statute, individuals sentenced under the guidelines are not eligible for early release through parole.

The Commission has ongoing monitoring, amendment, and sentencing education responsibilities. Its seven voting members are appointed by the President with the advice and consent of the Senate. The Attorney General and the Chairman of the Parole Commission also serve on the Commission as non-voting, ex-officio members.

Correctional Service Canada

ORGANIZATION AND ADMINISTRATION

Adult corrections in Canada is a responsibility shared by federal, provincial and territorial governments. Generally, the Government of Canada through the Ministry of the Solicitor General and two agencies, the Correctional Service of Canada and the National Parole Board, has the responsibility for all offenders sentenced to two years or more. Provincial jurisdictions are responsible for offenders serving less than two years and have exclusive responsibility for convicted offenders who are sentenced to probation.

The Correctional Service is headed by the Commissioner of Corrections who reports to the Solicitor General. The national headquarters in Ottawa performs overall planning and policy development for the Service. Five geographic regions administer the operation of the institutions and parole offices. The National Parole Board determines whether federal inmates can be released on parole prior to the expiry of their sentence.

The Correctional Service of Canada's mission statement reads: The Correctional Service of Canada, as part of the criminal justice system, contributes to the protection of society by actively encouraging and assisting offenders to become law-abiding citizens while exercising reasonable, safe, secure and humane control.

National Parole Board

ORGANIZATION AND ADMINISTRATION

The National Parole Board grants, denies, terminates or revokes conditional releases to those offenders under sentence of imprisonment in federal, territorial and provincial institutions in provinces that do not maintain a provincial Parole Board. It is an independent body reporting to Parliament through the Ministry of the Solicitor General.

The Board consists of up to 36 members appointed for up to ten years by the Governor-in-Council. The head office is in Ottawa. There are five divisions, one in each major geographical region of the country, namely, the Atlantic, Quebec, Ontario, the Prairies and the Northwest Territories, and the British Columbia and Yukon regions. Regional Offices are managed by one Regional Director in each region with support staff.

ADULT AND JUVENILE FACILITIES BY REGION

Each Correctional Region operated a variety of adult custodial facilities which range in capacity from 15 to 400. These include large regional correctional centres, moderate-sized forest camps, and small community correctional centres. The latter often use Temporary Absence Programs to facilitate work or educational release of inmates. The average daily adult provincial count is approximately 2,000, with annual admissions to the system in the course of the year reaching 15,000. Levels of security range from locked tiers or living units and supervised control of all inmate movement to open, unlocked centres operated in the community. Programs offered throughout the province include shop work, forestry, farm and ranch work, and fisheries enhancement.

The Corrections Branch also operates nine youth custody and detention centres in the five regions of the province. These include maximum security, locked youth centres, open camp settings, and open community centres. The average annual admissions to the youth system are approximately 2,300, with an average bedload of 315.

In addition to custodial/gaol facilities, the Corrections Branch includes 450 community corrections staff at 79 locations. This includes probation officers, bail supervisors, and family court counsellors. The average provincial community corrections caseload is approximately 20,000.

In addition to programs directly managed by the Corrections Branch, the Branch also contracts with private groups for a number of services such as institution meals, community service order programs and other community-based attendance programs for youth.

ORGANIZATION AND ADMINISTRATION

Pursuant to the passing of the Adult Corrections Act, 1975, a division of the Department of Justice was created whereby the provincial custodial institutions and the probation service were amalgamated. This marked the commencement of the Adult Probation Services under the Community Corrections Branch of the Adult Corrections Division*. The population served is adult offenders aged 18 and up, whereas juvenile offenders are served by the* Department of Social Services*, and parole is a responsibility of the Correctional Service Canada.*

The Department of Social Services is the principal agent for the delivery of Youth Corrections Services*. Youth between the ages of 12-18+ years usually are referred by the youth court upon disposition for case management, but other referrals for voluntary counselling are possible. The services available usually fall into one of four categories, 1) alternative measures and dispositional options, 2) community corrections, e.g., probation, 3) community residential care, and 4) secure custody.*

Ontario

ORGANIZATION AND ADMINISTRATION

The Ministry of Correctional Services is responsible for young offenders aged 16 and 17, and adults aged 18 years and over on remand or serving sentences of less than two years, as well as those on probation or parole.

The ministry is divided into two main divisions: Operations and Corporate Services. The ministry also has jurisdiction over the Ontario Board of Parole which is the paroling authority for inmates serving sentences in provincial institutions.

The Operations Division is comprised of the Offender Programming branch, Community Corrections branch, and five regions, each with its own regional director and regional managers. All superintendents of provincial correctional facilities and probation/parole area managers report to the regional office.

The probation/parole offices in each region provide services for all young offenders and adults who have been placed under probation supervision by the courts. Staff in these offices also provide supervision for all inmates released from provincial institutions under the authority of the Board of Parole. Probation and parole officers may also be responsible for the supervision of incarcerates released on temporary absence or serving intermittent sentences.

The Childrens Services Branch of the Ministry of Community and Social Services is responsible for juvenile offenders.

ORGANIZATION AND ADMINISTRATION

Adult correctional services are the responsibility of the Ministere de la Securite publique.

Probation Service supervises defendants subject to conditions imposed by the court and prepares pre-sentence investigations for the court. In addition, it prepares pre-release reports and supervises paroles released by the Provincial Parole Board which was created in 1979.*

Probation Service implemented a Community Service Programme in all the judicial districts and is responsible for its administration. The primary objective of the programme is to provide a court and to those who appear before it a substitute for prison sentences in cases where the public interest is not endangered. Probation Service also administers the Compensatory Work Program that is an alternative to paying a fine.

ACA Overview

The American Correctional Association (ACA) was founded in 1870 as the National Prison Association, later called the American Prison Association. The first Congress was convened that year in Cincinnati, Ohio where then Ohio governor and future U.S. President Rutherford B. Hayes was elected first president of the Association. In 1954, reflecting the expanding philosophy of the field and the Association's broadening role, the name was changed to the American Correctional Association.

For more than a century, ACA has made a continued appraisal of its role as a national forum in the field of crime prevention and correction in order to insure that its efforts are geared to the social needs and the knowledge of the times. The proceedings of the more than one hundred Congresses offer dramatic evidence of this activity.

Working towards a unified voice in correctional policy, the ACA has been actively involved in developing a national correctional philosophy, designing and implementing standards for correctional services and methods for measuring compliance, and providing publications, training and technical assistance.

The Association's headquarters is located in Laurel, Maryland and is staffed by over one hundred men and women dedicated to serving the membership of the Association.

Code of Ethics

AMERICAN CORRECTIONAL ASSOCIATION

Preamble

The American Correctional Association expects of its members unfailing honesty, respect for the dignity and individuality of human beings and a commitment to professional and compassionate service. To this end, we subscribe to the following principles:

Members will respect and protect the civil and legal rights of all individuals.

Members will treat every professional situtation with concern for the person's welfare and with no intent of personal gain.

Relationships with colleagues will be such that they promote mutual respect within the profession and improve the quality of service.

Public criticisms of colleagues or their agencies will be made only when warranted, verifiable and constructive in purpose.

Members will respect the importance of all disciplines within the criminal justice system and work to improve cooperation with each segment.

Subject to the individual's right to privacy, members will honor the public's right to know and will share information with the public to the extent permitted by law.

Members will respect and protect the right of the public to be safeguarded from criminal activity.

Members will not use their positions to secure personal privileges or advantages.

Members will not, while acting in an official capacity, allow personal interest to impair objectivity in the performance of duty.

No member will enter into any activity or agreement, formal or informal, which presents a conflict of interest or is inconsistent with the conscientious performance of his or her duties.

No member will accept any gift, service or favor that is or appears to be improper or implies an obligation inconsistent with the free and objective exercise of his or her professional duties.

In any public statement, members will clearly distinguish between personal views and those statements or positions made on behalf of an agency or the Association.

Each member will report to the appropriate authority any corrupt or unethical behavior where there is sufficient cause to initiate a review.

Members will not discriminate against any individual because of race, gender, creed, national origin, religious affiliation, age or any other type of prohibited discrimination.

Members will preserve the integrity of private information; they will neither seek data on individuals beyond that needed to perform their responsibilities, nor reveal non-public data unless expressly authorized to do so.

Any member who is responsible for agency personnel actions will make all appointments, promotions, or dismissals in accordance with established civil service rules, applicable contract agreements and individual merit, and not in furtherance of partisan interests.

Affiliates of the American Correctional Association

The ACA structure is somewhat similar to a large federation. Instead of comprising divisions of service, the Association is made up of affiliate organizations and chapters–67 different groups representing the entire spectrum of correctional programming. Each affiliate or chapter is organized with its own constitution and bylaws, and each performs a valuable service in a specific area. Affiliates and chapters are voted into the Association by the Board of Governors after having met criteria established by the Board.

Affiliates and chapters contribute to the total policy development of the Association through their appointed members of the Delegate Assembly. The number of delegates representing each affiliate and chapter is directly related to the number of members each has in the ACA. The ACA has four regional affiliates, 31 professional affiliates and 10 state affiliates. Dual membership, the fourth category, is available in 22 states where membership is provided in both ACA and the state chapters.

In what Dr. Billy Graham calls an important and much needed book, Smarto provides encouraging reports of current prison ministries based on his visits to more than 80 American prisons. Smarto believes that only a change of heart through faith and Christ can turn offenders away from a life of crime. He challenges individuals to bring Christ – and his justice and mercy – to criminal offenders. (1987, 350 pages, 0-8423-1990-5)

PEERLESS RESTRAINING DEVICES

New Hinged Handcuffs These patented handcuffs are the ultimate in restraint and provide maximum safety to the restraining officer. New hinge design prevents prisoners from using muscles and tendons to tamper with locking mechanism. When handcuffed properly, prisoners are unable to escape, even with key in hand. Hinged Handcuffs, permit cuffing in a cross arm position, preventing "stepping" through to bring hands from back to front. Particularly effective in transporting prisoners and in high security risk situations. Independent tests approved by the IACP (International Association of Chiefs of Police) have determined that these handcuffs exceed Federal standards. Can accommodate a 25% larger wrist than standard cuffs and uses a standard handcuff key.

Leg Irons

Peerless leg irons are adjustable shackles built for years of service. They are made to the same rigid specifications as U.S. government approved Peerless handcuffs. They have 19 positive locking positions to a 10" circumference and a strong 15" chain to prevent the prisoner from running. All steel construction with nickle finish and new, improved double lock. Two standard handcuff keys are furnished.
